Subject: Introducing the New GenFlex Technical Application

At GenFlex, we've made it a point to listen and respond to our customers' needs. That's why we are excited to announce our new technical application available for Android and iOS (Apple) devices! The free, easy-to-use app provides you with an array of tools to help make your job easier. From safety data sheets to drawings to technical bulletins, you're only a tap away from accessing a wealth of information.

Features:

- Quickly access the latest Technical Information Sheets
- Save the files you use the most to your device for easier access
- Your saved files automatically update when we make a change ensuring you have the most recent versions
- Easily share documents via email, or conveniently print them using an air printer

To download the new app, please visit the appropriate links below:
