Subject: New Low VOC EPDM and TPO Product Introductions

The continued expansion of our Single Ply Product Line to include new Low VOC EPDM and TPO accessory products that meet the new OTC (Ozone Transport Commission) is an important part of GenFlex's commitment to maintaining an environmentally friendly line of products. The addition of the accessory products listed below allows our customers to install GenFlex EPDM or TPO roofing systems that meet the requirements of <250 g/L VOC content in the 13 OTC member states while maintaining the same high level of product performance you expect from GenFlex. Please visit www.GenFlex.com for more information regarding the OTC requirements.

Following is the new product information for these OTC compliant products:
