Subject: Product Update (Discontinued Products)

Over the past several years, GenFlex has added several new products to our product line in order to keep up with the changing marketplace and capitalize on new technology. As our product line continues to grow, it's important that we discontinue any slow moving or obsolete products from our inventory to better service our customers with products in high demand.

This bulletin is intended to explain the current products that will be immediately discontinued from GenFlex's product offering.
